SUMMARY OF ST. LOUIS MARKETS.

Yesterday's grain markets were mainly in the hands of scalpers and small specu lators, who took advantage of every appreciation to realize profits. Most of the news was bullish, but the heavy traders were out of the pit and the market had only occasional support. Liverpool and other European markets were strong, in sympathy with the domestic advance on Monday. Receipts here and at other primary points were extremely small, as compared with the corresponding day last year. Bradstreet reported that the available supply of wheat east of the Rocky Mountains declined 2,531,000 bulast week. As an offset, there was an increase in the European supply. From many buying points came advices that farmers were letting go practically none of their holdings, although the roads were in good condition. Still, the country buying demand was equally small, and there was little or no cash inquiry after the first half hour. This left the market entirely under the control of speculators.

There was a good early demand for corn, but liquidation forced prices down. After that it was a see-saw market, closely in line with the fluctuations of wheat. May wheat opened %c up and closed %c off. July opened unchanged to %c up and News Mainly Bullish, but Scalpers and Professionals Control. the Trading.

Bullish news did not prevent profit-takers from letting go on every advance yesterday, the result being an unsettled and unsatisfactory market. The net result of the day's trading was that the gains of the previous session were partially wiped out. After Monday's big advances, liquidation was to be expected. Trading was largely in the hands of scalpers, and small specu-lators. Receipts were extremely small, as compared with last year, but outside Buy-ing was much lighter than on the previous day, and there was only a moderate miling demand. All foreign markets were strong throughout the session and a fair export inquiry was reported. Bradstreet's reported a total decrease of 731.000 bu, in the world's available supply of wheat.

HGGS—The receipts of hogs were small for Tuesday, in fact, not more than half as large as a good average run. Not quite so large a proportion of the offerings were pigs as on Monday, Heavy hogs were scarce, yet the quality was about as good as usual of late. The market opened with buyers all on hand and wanning hogs, consequently trading was active and values about 5a higher than Monday. Pigs showed no improvement, but were full steady. Not more than one-fourth of a good moderate supply was on sale and buyers were again unable to fill more than a small proportion of their orders. Trading was active so long as there was anything in sight which was but a short time after the market opened. Late arrivals found buyers waiting for them, consequently they sold as fast as yarded.

Sales included lambs at $4.5362.25; native sheep at $4.69; Arkansas sheep at $3.55; bucks at $2.500 km. And culls at $257.25.

HOISES—General receipts were of yery fair volume, though not nearly as large as a week ago, the unfavorable conditions surrounding the influx of offerings still operating to keep down the volume of arrivals. It was also a noticeable fact that the quality of the horses was plainer. Auction receipts were decledily light and the market did not develop any features of importance, sales showing a generally steady condition contrasted with the opening of the week. The market is enjoying a moderate demand from the East for the choicer classes, but as these are in small proportion this phase of activity is included more than would otherwise be the case that the plant of offerings. Southern buying is included the light. The best outlet is being furnished by local contractors for the choicer grade of small horses which meet the British cavery requirements, increased competition having transpred with the commencement of the week.

Wall Street Gossip.
Reported by Francis, Bro. & Co., No. 214 North purchases were very small.

The early tone of the stock market was generally quite him, under the lead of a few specialities, some of which reached top prices. The heaviness of Amalgamated Copper, however, and the large engagements of gold for export by Thursday's steamer, took the edge off the market, and their were numerous reactions. Trading was largely professional, and brokers reported little commission fusiness.

The ostensible cause of weakness of Amalgamated Copper seemed to be the heaviness of the copper market in London and a decline in Hio Tinics, but many traders let go their holdings, because the reported negotiations for a settlement had not materialized.

The strength of Distilling shares was due to the belief that the hostillity between sharehold-ers would be amicably settled out of court. Less talk about dividends was heard to-day.

that been expected.

The afternoon break in Amalgamated Copper was due to the decline in Copper in the Metal Exchange. The effer of a Boston broker to pay $\(^2\) of 1 per cent for the next dividend on $2,000 shares of Amalgamated Copper was employed as such tactics are usually in the selling movement.
